RARE SIGHT — Probably nowhere else in this country could you take a photograph such as this one. Carmel-by-the-Sea is truly a "Forest City." Outside of the center of the downtown area, the houses of Carmel are hidden by the trees, and even the downtown area is characterized by more trees than are usually found in the center of any other city. Sunset Cultural Center is the group of buildings with the step-pitched roof in the center of the picture, and the town lies above.

Hi Ho, Come to the Fair— Carmel Artists Win Prizes

What are Monterey County fairs made of?

Hackney ponies and Bob Baker's Marionettes and 4-H Club lambs and Bud Antle's crates of lettuce that's what Monterey County fairs are made of—these things and many, many more.

The fair gates swung open Wednesday at 10 a.m. —although they did creak ajar at 7:15 a.m., at the Hunt Club entrance to admit guests to the "Early Bird" breakfast sponsored by Monterey Chamber of Commerce—and there was such a potpourri of entertainment, education and history spread before visitors they'll need to return again and again to see it all.

The five-day show runs from 10 a.m. to 11 p.m. each day through Sunday.

Art Winners

Carmel's artists were top awards winners in the art division at Monterey County Fair this year, earning 14 of the 29 places given in the two divisions of the show. Entries in the art department were judged Saturday.

Art Divisions

Exhibits are divided into traditional and modern divisions in the fair art show, each displayed in its own gallery.

Ellwood Graham of Pebble Beach took best of show, and the City and County of San Francisco trophy, in the modern division. Eugene Towne of Pebble Beach was the trophy winner in the traditional division.

Another work of Graham's also took a first place award in the modern division.

Towne's painting entered in the traditional division at last year's art show at the fair placed fourth.

Other Carmel area winners at this year's fair included:

Other Winners

Alex Gonzales 1—3rd; Virginia Gonzales 1—1st; Frances Mitchell 1—2nd; Frank Ambrosio 1—1st; Howell Armor 1—3rd; Helen M. Barker 1—2nd; Ann Carlson 1—4th; Albert Crundall 1—3rd; Olof Dahlstrand 1—3rd; Leslie Emery 1—1st; James J. Kramer 1—2nd; Barbara West 1—4th; all of Carmel.

Showcase Fair

Monterey County Fair is the central coast's showcase of products of farm, field and kitchen, the best of the creations of skilled artists and artisans,' and the top projects of its junior exhibitors, most of them 4-H club and FFA chapter members.

It's a giant giveaway, featuring a "young world treasure hunt" at Del Monte Center in Monterey, with top prizes of a back-to-school wardrobe to some boy and girl, and with dozens and dozens of lesser prizes contributed by the merchants of the center.

It's also the opportunity to stock the family larder, also by courtesy of the Del Monte Center, with either a blue ribbon steer, a hog, or a lamb purchased at the junior livestock auction at the fair on Aug. 9.

Special Days

It's a series of special days to salute cities and special groups of the central coast area.

Friday is Salinas Valley Day and Senior Citizens' Day at the Monterey County fairgrounds. Special feature that day is the 4-H Club fashion revue on the main stage at 3 p.m.

Saturday is Future Farmers of America Day, 4-H Club Day and Salinas Day at the fair. At 10 a.m. the junior livestock auction will open.

Watsonville Band

Sunday is Grange Day, Monterey Peninsula Day and Armed Forces Day. The Watsonville Band is the principal attraction on the fairgrounds that day. The 70-piece band will be featured in an hour's concert on the main stage of the fairgrounds beginning at 3 p.m.

Sunset Restaurant Lease Action Set For Carmel City Council Committee

By Gunnar Norberg

For just a moment at last night's City Council meeting it looked as though the owner of one of Carmel's 39 restaurants was to be placed in immediate contention with Tom King of Capitola for a possible commercial restaurant at the city's Sunset Center.

This occurred when Mayor Barney Laiolo stated that he had received an alternate proposal for a restaurant at Sunset, and he was about to refer this new application —evidently made by George Rockwood, owner of the Village Corner restaurant—to the Cultural Commission for its consideration.

While there seemed to be little objection from other members of the City Council to have the Cultural Commission consider the new applicant along with the application previously made, there were staff objections.

Sunset Manager Cole Weston rightfully said he would be reluctant to tell Tom King that his application would have to be reconsidered because of the new application, while City Attorney William Burleigh felt it was incumbent upon the City Council to act on the King proposal before considering any others.

This led to a change in the council handling of the restaurant question. City Administrator Hugh Bayless suggested that the restaurant matter be referred to the Council's Committee on Public Welfare (Eben Whittlesey and Ken Brown) and it was so referred.

Councilman Frank Falge, who had prepared a series of

Segal Speaks To Hi-12 On Banking

Barnet J. Segal, presiednt of Carmel Savings and Loan, was the featured speaker at High 12's Monday luncheon meeting.

He discussed local banking history and his part in it.

Segal was raised in New York City, studied finance, accounting and business law at New York University and American University.

His banking career started in New York and New Jersey in 1917 and he came to California three years later.

His first local job was with The Bank of Monterey. At that time, the only other bank in Monterey was the First National Bank. There were two banks in Pacific Grove, the Bank of E. Cooke

Tryouts Sunday and Monday For New Studio Play

The Studio Theatre, Dolores Street, Carmel, will hold tryouts Sunday at 2:30 p.m. and Monday at 7 p.m. to select a cast for the Woody Allen comedy hit "Don't Drink The Water."

Edie and Sam Karas have undertaken to play the mother and father roles originated by Kay Medford and Lou Jacobi on Broadway, but the remaining dozen parts are open.

The comic plot concerns a pair of tourists and their attractive daughter who are forced to seek refuge in an American Embassy somewhere behind the Iron Curtain at the very moment when the Ambassador has to depart for a week, leaving his well-meaning but blundering son in charge.

To their dismay, the tourists are confined in the embassy for more than a week during which their antics contribute more to hilarity than diplomacy. Meanwhile, needless to say, the two young people discover romance.

A complicated plot to smuggle the tourists out of the country quickly involves an eccentric priest who has found asylum in the embassy for six years, the Ambassador's distraught assistant, several Iron Curtain functionaries, an Arab sultan and one of his wives and various other characters.

The roles are so diverse that men and women of all ages are required, with or without previous stage experience. Director Bill Asp invites anyone interested to try out or to call the Studio at 624-1661 or 624-2321 for further information.

CORRECTIONS

Two weeks ago the Pine Cone carried a picture of Carmel High School student body president Mozafar Beroosmia, a native of Iran. The story indicated that he would return to Teheran and attend college. It also said that his father was financing him completely. Both statements are wrong.

He will attend MPC. He will work his way with help from a scholarship he has applied for.

Sorry, Mozafar. Our apologies.

Carmel WWI Vets Ride In Parade

The remaining veterans of World War I are becoming scarcer, and when 10 members of the Veterans of World War I of Monterey Peninsula Barracks 634 gathered in a huge troop carrier for the Seaside 4th of July parade, it was quite an event.

Half of the veterans who rode in the flag-bedecked truck were from Carmel, and included 1st Sergeant Robert C. Gilmour, immediate past commander of the Carmel American Legion Post 512, and a veteran not only of W I, but WWII, Korea and Vietnam as well.

Elmer R. Getchell saw service in the British Army in 1914 and 15, then with the American Expeditionary Forces in France from 1917 to 1919, and the AEF in Siberia from 1919 to 1920.

Julian Caheen of Carmel Knolls served with the AEF in France from 1917 to 1919 and was a commissioned officer in WII. He is presently senior vice commander of the Carmel American Legion Post.

Freeman Ballou, a resident of Upper Terrace, Served with the AEF in France from 1917 to 1919.

Simon Moore of Carmel Valley is a lifetime resident of the area whose grandparents were born here under the Mexican flag. Fittingly, Moore served with the AEF in France in the 91st (California) Division.

The age of these veterans ranges from 70 to 85.

Gifts for Servicemen In Vietnam

There are still half a million U. S. servicemen in Vietnam! This year, as for the past three years, the American Red Cross will distribute Christmas ditty bags filled with gifts from the American people to every man in Vietnam at Christmas time. The Carmel Red Cross is again collecting gifts to fill 400 bags as the remembrance of the community to the servicemen this year.

Thursday and Friday, Aug. 7 and 8, local residents will have the opportunity of seeing the type of gifts to be included and to make their personal contribution as an expression of remembrance and gratitude to our servicemen in Vietnam. Tables displaying samples of the gifts to be included in the ditty bags will be on display at the Carmel Post Office, Pebble Beach Post Office, in front of the Carmel Crocker Citizens Bank at Ocean Avenue and Dolores and at the Thunderbird Bookstore in Carmel Valley. Uniformed Red Cross volunteers will be on hand at these locations from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. to accept donations of gifts or funds for their purchase.

WPMA Shows Two Award Winners

Two award winning films will be shown at the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art on Friday, Aug. 8.

The 8 p.m. program will open with the film "Why Man Creates," recipient of an Oscar at this year's Academy Awards. The 25-minute film was produced by Kaiser Industries.

Following refreshments, the second half of the program will open with "Country of the Mind" filmed and produced by Bob Blaisdell. This 20-minute film about Big Sur features Eric Barker reading his own poetry and won awards at film festivals in San Francisco and Columbus, Ohio.

The first local showing of Blaisdell's most local movie will end the program. This 15-minute film is about Carmel Mission and recent archeological discoveries made there. Both of these pictures were made by Black Lion Productions, Blaisdell's company.

Market Comments

Dow Theory Business and Stock Market Forecasts letter dated Aug. 1 continues to point out that we are still in a bear market and temporary rallies ". . . should be used for selling, not buying, stocks by those without adequate reserves. Buying should be highly selective and confined to an accumulation program planned to extend through 1969 and perhaps 1970 as well."

McGinnis Travel Is New Amexco Agent

Bob McGinnis Travel, located in the Carmel Rancho Shopping Center, has been appointed official representative of American Express Company in Carmel, according to Stephen S. Halsey, senior vice president and general manager of the Travel Division of American Express.

With this new association Bob McGinnis Travel will now offer its clients all the travel and financial services of more than 700 offices and appointed representatives of American Express Company and its subsidiaries worldwide. Travelers may purchase tickets, tours, American Express Travelers Cheques and Money Orders, as well as obtain applications for the Company Card.

Bob McGinnis, owner of the travel agency, reported that "being able to offer our friends American Express services insures them of the most complete and trouble-free vacation possible."

Marion Nason Wins Warmington Trophy

Marion Nason, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nason of Cachagua, was the winner of the Warmington Perpetual Trophy for the most improved rider in this year's series of five horse shows.

The award began as a series of play days, informal and primarily designed as fun for the participants.

These were mostly races—sometimes foot and tandem, musical tires and many more.

Horsemanship was not overlooked, however, and as the participants became more aware of proper dress and horse training, more and more horsemanship was stressed.

Then, in 1964, Dick Warmington proposed a perpetual trophy for the most improved rider, and in 1964 the award was won by Kathy Pack; in 1965 by Petie Dahle, 1966 by Sylvia Zoellin; 1967 by Ginger Dahle; 1968 by Margaret Menke, and now by Marion Nason.

Plan Approved for CV Road Repair

Repair of the washout of Carmel Valley Road that has necessitated a detour since the heavy winter rains, was tentatively approved during a July 7 meeting of representatives of the State Division of Highways and the Bureau of Public Roads.

Preliminary plans provide a new alignment to be developed which generally parallels the river channel and would improve the alignment and grade. This new alignment will avoid several problem areas that would be encountered if the existing facility were to be repaired in place. These problems include: (1) Possible disruption or relocation of the 30-inch water main which provides service to the Monterey Peninsula. This water work area adjacent to the main currently is located under the present Carmel Valley Road detour and adjacent to the section of roadway that has slipped out. (2) Handling of construction zone traffic in the limited section that has slipped out. (3) The correction of subsurface drainage problems consisting of several springs that were instrumental in causing the present damage.

Surveys and design work which were initiated immediately following the recession of water are progressing on a priority basis.

On July 22, the Board of Supervisors authorized staff overtime to accelerate the completion of the final plans and specifications.

After design completion the advertising and awarding for a contract will be done by the State Division of Highways. Actual construction operations should begin after the first of the year.

MANAGEMENT TEAM—David K. Faulk, left, vice president, and Max Hawker, general manager, will open "IMPORTS &" on Saturday, Aug. 9 at the Carmel Rancho Shopping Center.

Exotic Import Emporium Opened By Pea-Chick 'Father' Faulk

By Charles Strosnider

David K. (Skip) Faulk, adopted father by three abandoned pea-chicks, will open his "IMPORTS &" store at Carmel Rancho Shopping Center on Saturday. Aug. 9.

In his 12,000 feet of floor space, "Skip" Faulk will bring pleasure back to shopping, while you seek the unique and unusual among his imports from the world. Many of the items are of his design to suit the American taste, manufactured abroad under strict quality specifications and control.

Faulk knows what appeals to the American buyer. He was with "Cost Plus" in San Francisco, left there to open, as one of the owners, "Cost Less" in San Diego, and subsequent branches. He sold out his interest and started his own import business as a wholesaler.

"Imports &" will be his return to a retail outlet.

Max Hawker, manager of "Imports &", has long been associated with David Faulk, feeling almost schizoid in his leaps from "Cost Plus" to "Cost Less' to Hong Kong to Taiwan to Honolulu and now to "Imports &".

"Skip" Faulk believes in making your surroundings entertaining and interesting while shopping. There is the air of the unusual at "Imports &". There is the use of graphics (go see what we mean) and a light/music box where moving your hand within the bands of varied-colored lights will change the tonal structure of music emitting.

It's not only a place to shop but also a place to enjoy.

"Skip's" other love are his three pea-chicks (sex undetermined at this early age). At his avocado ranch home in Del Mar, a nesting pea-hen was abandoned by her pea-cock mate. A woman scorned — and all that — she left her nest to bring her erring mate to bay.

The fertile, unattended eggs were brought into the house and lovingly cared for by the Faulks. "Skip" was mid-wife at the hatching and became mother, father and pediatrician to the chicks. To them he IS their mother! They answer to his voice alone, follow his around and cluster on and about his body when he sits down.

They will be here with him during the time of the opening — quite naturally —for they are much too young to have anyone other than their "mother's" tender loving care.

UCB Optimistic On Economic Future

The over-all outlook for the retailing industry in California is optimistic, but there are many problems that merchants must cope with.

If these problems are not satisfactorily resolved, then the operating results of retail outlets could be very disappointing, according to an industry survey released by United California Bank.

The bank projected that retail sales volume in the state will climb to $55 billion by 1975, an increase of more than $19 billion from the 1968 sales level of $35 billion. This substantial advance will be due in large part to continued good growth in both population and personal income. Moreover, the consumer's desire for "self-expression" by use of different apparel, home furnishings, etc., will be an increasingly important sales stimulant.

The report, prepared by Dr. Ray Jallow, UCB's chief economist, and the staff of the Research and Planning Division, cited the following as among the local retailing industry's prime problem areas:

—sharply rising costs for good, labor, operating services and supplies.

—difficulty in attracting bright young people into the field, and retaining them.

—growing losses due to theft and fraud.

—an extremely competitive retail situation for all types of outlets.

—headaches caused by the fact that a good deal of the merchandise to be sold must still come from the East.

—rapid shifts in population growth and demography.

Pipes Will Skirl At Forest Sunday

The tuneful skirling of bag-pipes will be heard once again on Sunday, Aug. 10, when the Lockheed Pipe Band will form on the paved parking lot at Sunset Cultural Center.

Beginning at 1:15 p.m., the Band will march from Sunset through town to the Forest Theatre, Mountain View and Santa Rita, Carmel.

The program will begin at 2 p.m. and the Lockheed Pipers will present Scottish Airs and Dances. The Pipe Major is Ozzie Reid.

This has become an annual summer event in Carmel, so join the crowd at the Forest Theatre for a free afternoon of relaxation and enjoyment.

All programs start promptly at 2 p.m. and are free to the public.

OBITUARY

Major General Clarence S. Ridley (USA Ret) died July 26 in a local hospital at the age of 86. He was a West Pointer, Class of '05, and commissioned in the Corps of Engineers. From 1936 until 1940 he was Governor of the Panama Canal, and chief of the military mission to Iran in 1942.

He retired in 1947 and moved to Carmel. He belonged to the Beach Club and "The Group." He leaves his widow, Mrs. Gladys Ridley, a brother, Ralph, and a nephew, William Ridely, both of Mobile, Ala., and niece, Mrs. Alice Inge of Los Angeles.

Contributions are preferred to the donor's favorite charity.

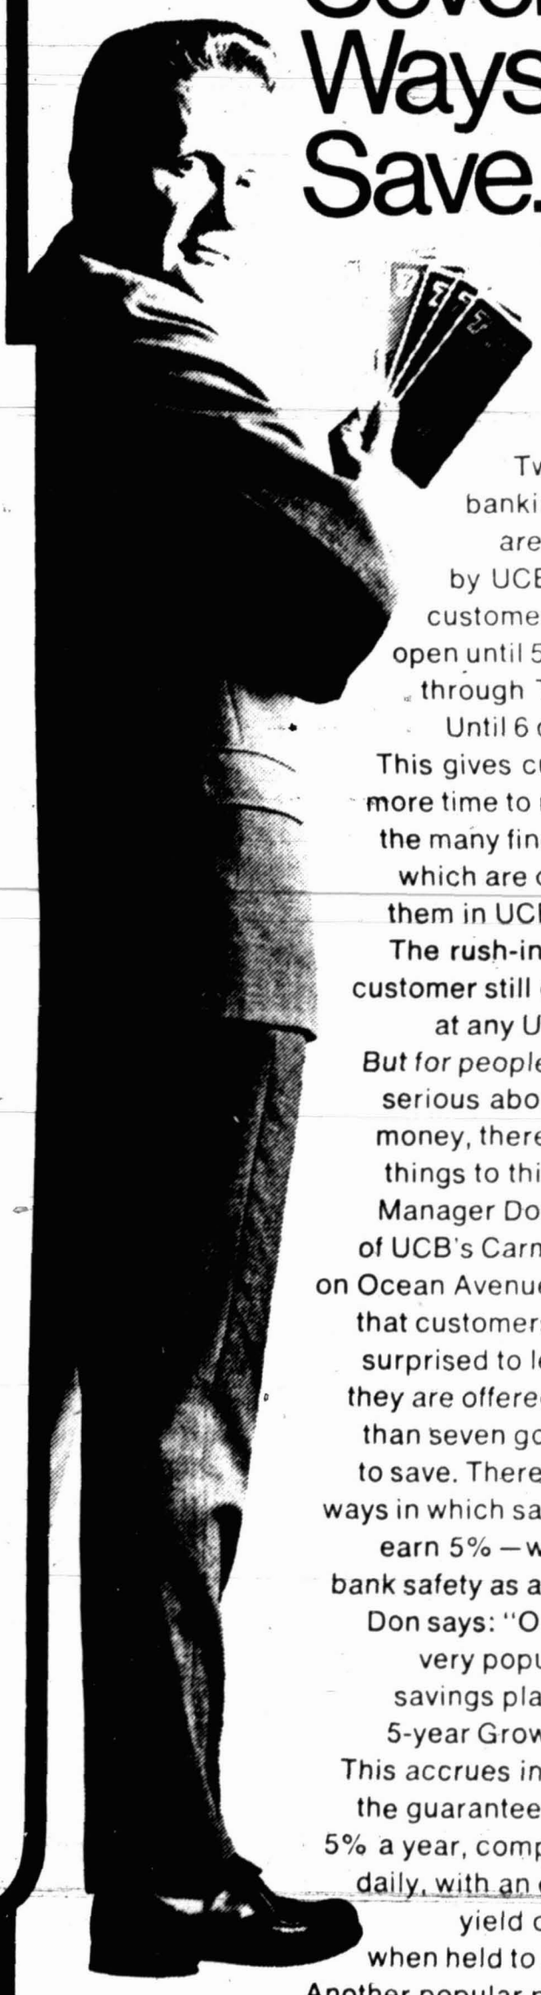
BONUS BANKING TIPS from UCB
Surprise: Seven Ways to Save.



Two bonus banking hours are enjoyed by UCB Carmel customers. We're open until 5 Monday through Thursday. Until 6 on Friday. This gives customers more time to mull over the many fine options which are offered to them in UCB savings. The rush-in-rush-out customer still does well at any UCB office. But for people who are serious about saving money, there are new things to think about. Manager Don Nelson of UCB's Carmel office on Ocean Avenue reports that customers are still surprised to learn that they are offered no less than seven good ways to save. There are four ways in which savers can earn 5% —with solid bank safety as a big plus. Don says: "One of the very popular UCB savings plans is the 5-year Growth Bond. This accrues interest at the guaranteed rate of 5% a year, compounded daily, with an effective yield of 5.68% when held to maturity. Another popular plan with Carmel savers is the UCB 5-Year Income Bond. These are available in units of $5,000 and up and provide a steady 5% income per year. Interest is paid quarterly by check, or deposited to the saver's own checking or savings account."

This is the kind of flexible savings offered by UCB—the full service bank with the bonus banking hours. Open until 5 Monday through Thursday. Until 6 on Friday.

Chamber Music At Cabrillo Festival

An exciting chamber music composition, "BEC-10," will have its premiere at the Cabrillo Music Festival Aug. 16.

Composer Fred Fox will attend the 8:30 p.m. concert.

"BEC-10," completed in December, 1968, is the final work in a series of chamber music compositions. The four-movement work is scored for flute, oboe, clarinet, bassoon, trumpet, trombone, percussion and 17 strings.

The Amici della Musica, one of California's three full-time professional symphony orchestras, and the West Coast's only full-time professional chamber symphony, will interpret the Fox composition.

Conductor Richard Williams is eager to do "BEC-10." "It's a wild piece! Each performer is a soloist in his own right," he enthusiastically explains. "Instead of having a violin section, for instance, where everyone plays the same notes, there are 17 individual parts."

The work is unusual. "Fox uses instruments in different ways," Williams says. "For instance, instead of bowing a string instrument as you usually do, he would have the strings plucked so far back as to twang against the instrument when they are released. There are also many unusual percussion instruments, all played by one person."

The 38-year-old Fox received his doctorate in composition from Indiana University. He has been a Ford Foundation Composer-in-Residence in the Minneapolis public schools and was administrative assistant for a Ford Foundation contemporary music project. He is currently an associate professor of theory and composition at California State College at Hayward.

The Cabrillo Music Festival will run for two successive weekends—Aug. 15-17 and Aug. 22-24. For tickets and further information, call (408) 475-6000 or 688-2075.

Mildred D. Curti

In My Memory Garden — by Mrs. Joseph R. Reeves

Mildred Dickerson Curti, widow of Colonel Ralph E. Cprti, after a long illness passed away July 4 in Brooke General Hosiptal, Fort Sam Houston, Tex.

Because of her dauntless courage and indomitable faith, her passing was a great shock to her many friends and relatives. Mildred Curti had been an active and outstanding Peninsula resident for nearly 20 years, making Carmel her home. She is survived by a brother, Warren Kirkman Dickerson of Williamsburg, Va.

Mildred D. Curti was a devoted friend to all those that knew and loved her — outgoing, generous of her time and self and always one to share. She felt obligated to get us and do those things which we all think can be done only by ourselves — in many cases merely to lend her presence and moral support. She fell in December and fractured her hip, from which she never fully recovered.

Here was a person who knew exactly right from wrong, who drew a fine, firm, definite line between the two and made no compromises. No shadow areas existed in her moral concept of any situation. She lived, in her every day life, a way guided primarily by the Golden Rule and the Ten Commandments.

She was devotedly beloved by her husband and family, and though her passing will be felt throughout the mass of her friends, it will leave a vacuum for some of us forever. She was known throughout the Army, in addition to her devotion to all mankind, for her ability and graciousness as a hostess and a homemaker, for her innumerable capabilities, talents and activities both here and abroad. Married to an Army doctor, she quickly demonstrated humanness and "know-how" which helped many an amputee or seriously ill soldier through his obstacle course. Her cheery face, happy smile and quick little friendly wave of her hand will be missed by many patients she knew even these last few weeks.

Our loss is great, but our loss on earth is His gain and we can rest assured that Mildred Dickerson Curti will carry on in her own inimitable style and will again be the gracious hostess helping to greet her friends and family in the life hereafter when we go to join her.

She was a member of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Carmel. Interment was at West Point Cemetery, West Point, N. Y.

Wedding Bells

Patricia Porter

Patricia Porter Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Franklin Porter of Carmel Valley are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Patricia, to Terry Edwin Hoover.

The future bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Hoover of Los Altos.

Patricia attended Carmel High School, the University of Arizona and is presently a student in the School of Nursing at the University of California Medical Center in San Francisco.

The bride-elect is the sister of Mrs. Lin Eldridge and the granddaughter of the Frank B. Porters of Carmel Valley and of Charles Haddon Manners and the late Deilberta Stuart Manners of Piedmont.

Terry has a brother Rex and a sister Bonnie. He is the grandson of Mrs. C. E. Axness and the late Mr. Axness of Palo Alto — and Mrs. Harold Hoover and the late Mr. Hoover of Oskaloosa, Iowa.

He attended Los Altos High School and is a graduate of Stanford University, where his fraternity was Sigman Alpha Epsilon. He is now a Dental Student at the University of California Medical Center in San Francisco.

After a December wedding in Carmel, Patricia and Terry will live in San Francisco.

Carmel High Grad Weds In Nevada

Gina Kawananakoa, a graduate of Carmel High School, and Carl Botefuhr, an executive of aPn American Financial Corporation in Hawaii, were married recently in Las Vegas, Nev.

The bride is the daughter of David Kawananakoa, descendant of a Hawaiian royal family.

The couple are living in the Kona district of the island of Hawaii, with Mr. Botefuhr's three children by a former marriage.

Monterey Peninsula Opera Workshop In Carmel Woman's Club Program

On Aug. 11 the Carmel Woman's Club will present a program of music by a soloist quartet from the Monterey Peninsula Opera Workshop, a group organized and directed by Nancy Ness Bowman of Carmel.

Mrs. Bowman, former star of opera and concert stage, is a well-known teacher of voice on the Peninsula. This program will include music of Brahms, Mendelsohn, Verdi and others, in duet, trio and quartet forms.

Helen Wheeler, orginally from Vienna where she studied voice and sang in light opera, has a delightful lyric-soprano voice. Joe Messinee, whose voice may be called a typical Italian tenor, has also been heard in many concerts here. Christopher Hungerland, bass-baritone, who studied in Vienna and sang with the Wagner Chorale, has also appeared many times with the Opera Workshop. Jean Canada, mezzo-soprano, is well known in this area for her warm and lovely voice.

Camille Olaeta, whose playing is so well known here, will be the accompanist.

Bosworth Oils In Town House Show

The paintings of Mrs. Laidlaw Williams (Abbie L. Bosworth) will be shown by the Carmel Foundation during the month of August at the Town House, Lincoln near 8th.

A Carmel resident since 1930, Mrs. Williams is a member of the Carmel Art Association. She was on its Board of Directors for several years, and was active in establishing its present gallery on Dolores Street. Her paintings have been shown here and elsewhere, including New York and Boston.

The interest she had felt in painting from early childhood was not implemented until her graduation from Mt. Holyoke College. She realized at this time that this was her field and studied first at the Boston Museum School. She next studied in New York with Kenneth Hayes Miller and Allen Lewis. She then traveled widely, finding subjects for her paintings in Scandanavia, Italy, France and Spain.

She said, "Anybody who pants is always experimenting and doing all sorts of things. My favorite media are oil and egg tempera on gesso panels. I also do some sculpture, carving in wood."

The public is invited to view the display at the Town House. The paintings are primarily landscapes in oil, and are on view Monday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Susan Taylor

Stewardess Wings

Miss Susan Taylor has received her "wings" from Trans International Airlines, leading charter airline carrying passengers throughcut the world.

The wings signify her completion of an intensive four-week training course that included in-flight food and beverage service, FAA regulations, international geography, customs and immigration regulations, military ranks and rules, aviation and airline history, first aid and emergency procedures, and applicable physiology and aerodynamics.

Miss Taylor is the 22-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Taylor of Carmel. She attended the University of California, Santa Barbara and Fresno State College prior to joining TIA.

Puget Sound

Mildred and Don Roberts have left for their Blakely Island summer home in Puget Sound.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Julie Gilbert, died July 31 at her home in Carmel. A long-time resident of Carmel, Mrs. Gilbert is survived by her husband, John P. Gilbert, two daughters, Mrs. Wallace Quimby of New York City, and Mrs. Louis Ungeretti of San Francisco, a sister, Mrs. Hamilton Darby of Bridgehampton, L.I., and three grandchildren.

Maxine Shore and Son Visit L. A.

Carmel author - teacher Maxine Shore was in Los Angeles last weekend, where she spoke to the Southwest Manuscripters, a group of active southern California writers. Many of them had attended her seminars in basic fiction and the novel, when she taught there in the summers of 1967 and 1968.

Mrs. Shore and her son Steven, recently returned from London, where she met editors and agents, and did literary research in the British Museum. On the way home, she stopped in New York to see editors there. Steve received his master's degree from Portland State University in June, and plans to take further graduate work toward a doctorate.

Bergstrom Visit

Cousins Robin and Kep Bergstrom visited Mrs. John (Sis) Reynolds of Carmel this week during an extended bicycle tour. Originally from Minnesota but now residents of Whittier, Robin and Kep's dad drove them to Santa Barbara to avoid the dangers of the freeway.

From Santa Barbara they rode their bicycles over San Marcos Pass and up the coast to Carmel. Now they are on their way to Campbell via Santa Cruz then North to Palo Alto and Danville.

Robin will quit there and Kep plans to continue his bicycle trip to the Russian River.

The young people say that they are enjoying the trip and average about 30 miles a day. They usually walk up the steep hills.

They attend La Serna High School in Whittier, where Kep is editor of the school newspaper.

Santa Cruz YWCA Antique Show

Antiques galore will be exhibited for sale again this year at one of Santa Cruz's important summer events.

For the 21st year the Santa Cruz Y.W.C.A. announces its Antiques Show and Sale at the Civic Auditorium in Santa Cruz, on August 7, 8, 9, and 10.

This year promises to be outstanding in the variety of items shown as well as the wide range of value. There will be exhibitors showing fine china and glassware, others with period and primitive items of furniture, lamps and pictures. Collectors of oriental art will find treasured items, as well as those seeking rare dolls, coins, buttons, books and bottles.

While many of the dealers will be familiar to those who visit the show each summer, there will be new faces too, one from as far off at Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Special sandwiches, salad plates and home made pies and cakes will be at the Snack Bar for the convenience of visitors to the show.

Tickets will be available at the door throughout the four days of the Antiques Show and Sale. The hours are Thursday through Saturday 12 noon to 10 p.m. and Sunday 12 noon to 6 p.m.

Carmel Valley Babies

A rash of new babies has occurred in Carmel Valley this month with a baby girl named Arifay Bint-Mashuri taking her place in the family of Mr. and Mrs. Mashuri Newell on July 3.

On the 10th Christina Louise was born to Mr. and Mrs. James Kohnke of Esquiline Road and on the 14th Robert Joseph to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Olivio of Paso Hondo.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Weinstein became parents of a boy named Lukman on July 15 and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Didyk of Eskiline Rd. a girl they have named Rosina on July 17.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Wolf of Lower Circle have a baby girl, Donna Denise, born on the 17th.

On the 19th Mr. and Mrs. Marvel Carter became parents of Charles Lawrence.

PARTY PLANS . . .

by Phyllis Jervey

"Exotic Bangkok Party"

President and Mrs. Nixon on their recent Asian tour stayed longer in Bangkok, Thailand, than in the other countries visited.

Bangkok is called the 'Venice fo the East' due to its shimmering "klongs" lined with tropical trees. Floating market places glide on these picturesque native canals, where shopkeepers dispense their meats, fruits and vegetables from Thai canoes.

The fruits are especially inviting such as luscious pineapples, mangoes, mangosteens, pomelos (oversized cross of grapefruit and orange) coconuts and bananas.

For those who have had their own tour in South Asia, there is a nostalgic variety of national dishes from Indonesia, Pakistan and Thailand. There is a saying in the latter country "To the ruler the people is heaven: To the people food is heaven."

This is the spirit of Asian dining at its most exotic. In Bangkok, Thailand's beautiful queen speaks fluent English and French and is considered a marvelous modern hostess. But her Majesty's parties reflect the mystery and glitter of her native land.

Let's plan a menu for an exotic South Asian Party which can be duplicated here without too much of a strain on ones efforts budget or time.

Thai Cocktail Escorts
Savory Buttered Shrimp
Golden Nuggets Egg Rolls
Chicken with Ginger
Flaky White Rice
Snow Pod Peas
Flaming Tropical Fruits
Champagne

For the cocktail "escorts," quickly steam jumbo shrimp in herbs and spices until tender but firm. Look on frozen package for exact directions. Make a dunking sauce of sweet Chinese piquant plum and/or hot Mandalay mustard.

American fashion, put the shrimp with plenty of melted butter and a dash of Tabasco sauce under the broiler, turning once. Serve sizzling on bamboo sticks.

The Golden Nuggets are made from pure minced prime beef. In the beef mix finely chopped green onions, crushed soda crackers, soya sauce and sesame oil. Make into tiny meat balls and quickly saute in the oil until golden. Serve hot, by keeping in chafing dish.

Thai egg rolls are light as air. These contain delicately shredded pork, chicken, shrimp, eggs, bamboo shoots and bean sprouts. For the uninitiated, it is easiest to use frozen Chinese egg rolls and heat according to directions, then sliced into bite-sized pieces. Serve on small skewers.

Chicken with Ginger

One large stewing hen; 10 green spring onions; 3 T. crystalized ginger; 5 T. vinegar and sugar, each; soya sauce to taste; 2 garlic cloves, minced; 10 T. peanut oil.

Steam the salted and peppered whole dressed chicken until just tender. Chill, then slice the boneless and skinless hen into slices ½ inch wide and 2 inches in length. Slice the ginger, then chop it finely. Cut the washed green onions with their tops into strips 2 inches long. Saute chicken in heated oil until golden. Add vinegar and sugar, mixed together.

Pour in soya gradually. Add garlic with the chicken. A little white wine or dry vermouth gives a nice nuance although this is an American innovation. Steam everything with lid on until very hot. Serve from a brass brazier. At last moment add the green onions and ginger as decorative and delicious topping.

A bit of experimenting can do no harm, such as adding blanched almonds, cubed bamboo shoots and water chestnuts for a crunch-crispness. These add rather than detract from true Asian flavor and texture.

Serve over fluffy hot white rice. Fragile and sweet baby-sized snowpod peas are the acme of oriental vegetables. Steam them lightly so they remain a beautiful jungle green. You can combine these with steamed dried black Chinese mushrooms, done separately. Add melted butter and salt to taste with perhaps a dash of Accent. Keep everything piping hot on electric buffet table servers.

A glamour tropical dessert served at Thailand's more sophisticated parties, is made of cubed, peeled fresh native fruits, pineapple, tiny apricots, cherries, litchi and other exotic fruits pierced with bamboo sticks and reposing on finely crushed ice.

In the center is a brass bowl containing the best brandy, heated and set aflame. Everyone tries to eat his blazing tidbite while

Johnny Soprano Plays George M. Cohan In Studio's Production of 'George M!'

Song-and-dance man Johnny Soprano was the incontestable choice for the title role of "George M!" opening Friday at the Studio Theatre-Restaurant in Carmel.

Well known on the Peninsula for previous appearances as Benny Southstreet in "Guys and Dolls," Hines in "The Pajama Game" and Lachlen in "The Hasty Heart," Soprano is the product of many years of training in dance and theater.

Playing George's father, Jerry Cohan, is Dale Lefler, director and choreographer of the show. With a long background in movies, television and night clubs, Lefler has made his talents available to more than 30 musical comedies on local stages, going back to the Old Wharf Theater days. He is a long time member of Dance Masters of America for whom he has been a convention instrucotr.

Jeannie M. Hughes appears as George's mother with prior credits for "Carnival" and "Guys and Dolls" at the Studio. Bettie DeWitt, George's sister, has been in "Bye Bye Birdie," "Little Mary Sunshine," "The Boy Friend" and "Oh, Kay!"

Doubling as Fay Templeton and Agnes Nolan is LaVonne Rae Andrews who has played The Girl in "The Fantasticks" and appeared in "Fiorello," "Oklahoma" and "The Man Who Came To Dinner" for the Naval Postgraduate School Little Theater.

First wife Ethel Levey is portrayed by Debby Berry, previously in "Guys and Dolls" at the Studio and "Oklahoma" at Carmel High School.

As "George M!" follows its protagonist through his eventful career to the music of his many song hits, most of the supporting cast play a variety of roles to suit the scene. These versatile players include Criss Bramlet, Becky Douglas, William Faulkner, Peter Granoff and Mindy Rayne who were also in the Carmel High School "Oklahoma." Chuck Bramlet was in "Oliver" at the Forest Theater along with Faulkner and Granoff.

Trip Batten, a veteran of summer stock, numbers among his credits "The Unsinkable Molly Brown," "Barefoot In The Park" and "The Odd Couple." Howard E. Hinckley played in "Gypsy" and "The Music Man" at the Wharf.

Making their local debuts are Robbin E. Chamberlain who was active in the Players Club at the University of Colorado and Greg Higgins, a concert soloist, who has just sung in the Bach Festival chorus.

Reservations for performances of "George M!" nightly except Monday and Tuesday through Sept. 13 may be made at 624-1661 or 624-2321.

SWEET CHARITY—During a balloon ride at Coney Island, Akemi Ito and Mark Oman sing the title song from the spirited musical now playing alternate weeks at the Circle Theater. Miss Ito plays Charity, a dance-hall hostess who somehow triumphs over her tawdry circumstances, even though she doesn't quite escape them.

Stage Review

Sweet Charity — This production, alternating with "Secret Life of Walter Mitty" at the Circle Theater, has some of the finest dancing seen on the Peninsula in many a moon. Akemi Ito as Sweet Charity, the "dance hall hostess with a heart of gold" type, brings to the Circle stage a solid background of training in ballet and modern dancing, and she puts it to smashing use as Charity. There's something about her Oriental pixiness that seems completely suited to the character she portrays, and add to that an unusually capable supporting cast, and you have a great evening of entertainment. Reservations for this and "Mitty" are a must, so call 624-2669.

Secret Life of Walter Mitty — Kudos, huzzahs, cheers and hoop-de-do for one of the finest productions to hit the area. Musical version of James Thurber's classic story of the little man who has built a dream world to relieve his frustrations. Michael Keller is Walter Mitty, the embodiment of everything Thurber must have had in mind when he produced Mitty.

'Electric Music Hall' at 'White Oaks

The all new 1969 "Electric Music Hall" opens tonight Aug. 7 at White Oaks Theatre in Carmel Valley.

A pot-pourri of music and laughter, "Electric Music Hall" is an original production featuring all members of the current company also performing in "The Fantasticks" and "The Box of Seven Faces."

Designed as light-heated summer entertainment, "Electric Music Hall" is packed with musical numbers both new and old. Selections from "Hair," "Gentle On My Mind," and "Feeling Groovey" are joined with such classic favorites as "Johnny One Note," "Suppertime," and "Over the Rainbow."

"Electric Music Hall" will play every Thursday and Friday evening through Aug. 29.

"The Fantasticks," a top favorite among theatregoers the world over, has a simple timeless story which combines satire and romanticism, bright comedy and serious verse. Currently in its 9th year off-Broadway, it will continue to play in Carmel Valley on Saturday and Sunday evenings.

All evening performances are at 8:30 p.m.

For the younger family members, "The Box of Seven Faces," a suspense-filled fantasy, may be seen every Sunday through Aug. 31 at 2:30 p.m.

TWO MOMS—Gale Bradley, left, and Marv Wardram, who play the two mothers in the White Oaks Theater production of "The Fantasticks," now playing Saturday and Sunday evenings through Aug. 31.

Movie Review

The Maltese Bippy — The The "bippy" title gives it away. Rowan and Martin bring Laugh-In's zany insanity to the screen with stolen jewelry, swallowed jewelry and a perfect jewel of a picture. Wild and funny. At the Valley Cinema.

Monterey Pop—Documentary by Donn Pennebaker of three nights and two days of the historic and controversial "Monterey Pop Festival" of 1967. Top name rock bands, and one of the surprise films of several years. At the Village Theatre.

My Side of the Mountain —A beautiful film. Describes the adventures of a boy whose hero is Thoreau. With Theadore Bikel singing a few songs, and nature as a co-star, this is screen fare for the entire family. At the Marina Auto Movie.

Once Upon a Time in the West—Big time western with all the ingredients — greed, violence, vengeance, killing, terror and land-grabbing. Henry Fonda is a real bad baddie. At the Grove.

Support Your Local Sheriff—This is the real sleeper of the 1968 movie year. James Garner, Walter Brennan. Garner doesn't want the job of sheriff, but takes it to protect the town. It was a pretty dull town until then. At the Village in Carmel.

True Grit—That old warhorse John Wayen in a typical Wayne flick. He's on the trail of a killer, along with the bounty hunter Glen Campbell and a crusty young woman, Kim Darby. Good stuff. At the Marina Auto Movie.

Oliver! — This Academy Award winner is based on the Charles Dickens novel Oliver Twist. From the London musical stage and directed by Sir Carol Reed. At Cinema 70.

Funny Girl — Barbra Streisand's first movie. Life story of Fanny Brice. Omar Sharif as gangster Nick Arnstein is outstanding. Walter Pidgeon too. At the Regency.

The Love Bug—Walt Disney production about a Volkswagen with a heart and mind of its own. Wins friends and sports car races. Chase scene filmed on the Monterey Peninsula. At the Steinbeck.

Vixen — Erica Gavin, one of the most generously endowed of the new screen sirens, in a plotty bit with racial strife, sex, the draft, sex, the Vietnam war, sex and communism . . . and sex. At the Hill.

2001: A Space Odyssey — This is the ultimate in science fiction. Traces man's hesitating footsteps from club-wielding days to interplanetary travel, with a paranoid computer and time flight involved. At the State.

NPSLT Tryouts

The Naval Postgraduate School Little Theatre will have tryouts for their coming production on Sunday, Aug. 10 at 2 p.m. and on Monday, Aug. 11 and Tuesday, Aug. 12 at 8 p.m. in King Hall. The play selected for the fall presentation on Oct. 10, 11, 17 and 18 is "You Can't Take It With You," a comedy by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman to be directed by Dick Vreeland.

All active and retired Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard personnel residing in the area and their dependents are eligible as well as all personnel attached to the Postgraduate School, Navy Auxiliary Landing Field and civilian employees.

Modern Show at M.P. Museum of Art

by Louise Cook

The sculpture of Roxanne Marden and the mixed media paintings of Robert Empie share the spotlight at the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art Association during the month of August. Both artists work in the San Francisco Bay area.

Although Miss Marden is an accomplished sculptress in various conventional materials, for the past several years she has experimented in construction of layered plate glass.

Layers of cool blues and greens, used vertically, show "Moses" with arms raised high holding the tablets with the Ten Commandments. "Spires" is a creation of clear and smoky glass.

Mary Jane Spence, director of the Museum, was so impressed with Miss Marden's work that she purchased the sculpture "Portrait of Ninety John Street."

A thorny crown of delicately cast brass wreathes a stylized glass "Profile of Jesus." "Rising Sphere" suggests a sunrise in shades of amber and aqua glass laid horizontally.

In these decorative pieces, Miss Marden has achieved something original in her inventive use of glass.

For some years Robert Empie has occupied himself with experiments using industrial and artistic synthetics. These he combines with foils of gold, silver, copper and aluminum. The foils are stained various colors to harmonize with other areas of the canvas.

With these materials he achieves interesting effects in non-objective compositions.

Community Theater Seeks VIP Names

Nominations are now open for VIP List, a "who's who in Monterey County."

The book will be published by Community Theater of Monterey Peninsula, Inc., as a bi-centennial project. It will contain the names of "decision-makers or those who influence decisions, together with men and women who have achieved prominence in any field of human endeavor, and who reside in Monterey County," according to Richard Bragg, the theater group's president.

"Our editorial board wants to be sure to include every person who should be listed," Bragg said. "But we can't hope to know them all, so we are asking the public to make nominations."

Persons making nominations need not sign their names. Nominations should include the name and mailing address of the person being proposed, along with a short statement as to why he or she is being nominated. Any number of nominations may be made.

There is no charge for listing in the book, Bragg said, nor any obligation to purchase the book, publication of which is planned for late summer.

Nominations or requests for information should be sent to VIP List, c/o Community Theater, Post Office Box AL, Carmel 93921.

Unique Show for Aardvark Gallery

The public is invited to attend a preview party at The Aardvark Gallery in Bernadelli Square in Carmel Valley Village Friday, Aug. 8 from 5 to 8 p.m. to view one of the most unusual one-man shows ever presented on the Monterey Peninsula.

According to Donn Squire, gallery curator, the show was timed to coincide with the 185th anniversary of the death of Fr. Junipero Serra, August 28, 1784.

The artist who has taken Fr. Serra's name as a pseudonym is Father Jesus Maria Serra, a Roman Catholic priest, who was born in California on San Carlos Borromeo Day, Nov. 4, 1927. He is an Oblate-Monk of Belgium's Chevetogne Monastery, a devotee of Fr. Junipero Serra, and lifetime member of the Associacion de Fray Junipero Serra, Petra, Mallorca.

The showing at the Aardvark Gallery, which will run through September, marks the first one-man show for the self-taught artist, who has done extensive study of California Mission art and Byzantine ikons, and who, for this reason, has traveled various times to Mexico, Spain, Mallorca, Italy, Greece, and the Near East. Father Serra has painted more than 400 tempera paintings, including the Fourteen Stations of the Cross for the Papal Nunciature, Asuncion, Paraguay, South America.

In addition to the current show, his works have been shown at Old Town Galleries in San Diego, the Wharf Gallery in Monterey, and the Little Picture Gallery in Carmel. He is well represented in various private collections.

CARMEL VALLEY VILLAGE NEWS

ROUND UP TIME IN UPPER CARMEL VALLEY

It's that time again and the beef is on the hoof and the fat is on the calf and the cowhands are gittin' along the little dogies as this pastoral scene so well depicts.

The surprising part is the delightful proximity, all this far out nature in the rawhide is to the busy little Village in the Valley just down the draw a-ways.

Carmel Valley Village

Who's To Know

Resourceful Glen Mewhinney, owner of the Village Art Center located on Del Fino Rd., Plaza de Flores, has had a most varied career, arriving finally in the midst of Carmel Valley Village creativity as a teacher and supplier, for all forms of artistic endeavor . . . including custom made and ready made frames.

Last winter Glen organized a group of different classes in silk screening, copper enameling, watercolor, oil, and acrylic painting, block printing, resin casting, collage, decoupage, and sculpture, under the direction of local instructors. The classes were small, thus assuring a rewarding amount of personal attention.

With the tourist or summer resident in mind, he has arranged classes for the summer, in two or three week stints, which, with concentrated effort makes meaningful the time and effort put into learning with a sense of accomplishment. For those unable to come to daytime classes, he gives an evening class in resin plastics.

At this time there are four more in the summer series:

Aug. 11, 1:30-4:30 p.m., Mon. and Wed. Watercolor Merilyn Brown, 3 week course.

Aug. 12, 1:30-4:30 p.m., Tues. and Thur. Decoupage, Mrs. John Cooper, 3 wk. course.

Aug. 18, 9:30-12:30 p.m., Mon., Tues., Wed., Thurs. Copper Enamel, Avis Ballard, 2 Week course.

Aug. 18, 7:00-10:00, Mon., Tues., Thurs. Resin Craft, Glen Mewhinney, 2 week course.

New series in the fall will begin in September with schedule to be announced later.

So let's get together and get some fascinating watercolor techniques mastered . . . or make a conversation piece in decoupage . . . a box . . . a tray . . . a mirror frame . . . or how about a bright copper ash tray transformed by melted glass to form a firm fast enamel decor . . . or make a screen or window panel . . . or a small size trivet . . . or a medium size 'hangle' to suspend from a nylon thread to catch the light and form colorful patterns as the sun shines through it to the floor. Enjoy your vacation by accomplishing something you wouldn't have the time for at home. Give Glen a ring at 659-2881 or 394-5171. He is closed on Tuesdays.

OFFICIAL CAR — A metallic bronze Imperial, complete with aerial-mounted official Bicentennial banner, the gift of Sam Matar right, owner of Cypress Chrysler-Plymouth Motors, is accepted by Lou Gold, president of the Old Monterey Bicentennial. The new official car will be used from now through 1970 for transporting dignitaries visiting the Peninsula at Bicentennial functions. As Bicentennial activities increase and more transportation is needed, Cypress Motors has pledged the number of 1970 model cars needed.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE BIBLE LESSON

"No man hath seen God at any time. If we love one another, God dwelleth in us, and his love is perfected in us. Hereby know we that we dwell in us, and his love is perfected in us. Hereby know we that we dwell in him, and he in us, because he hath given us of his Spirit."

This verse from I John is part of this Sunday's Christian Science Lesson-Sermon on "Spirit."

A related passage from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy states: "Every trial of our faith in God makes us stronger. The more difficult seems the material condition to be overcome by Spirit, the stronger should be our faith and the purer our love."

Wheaton Named

William L. Wheaton has been appointed to the newly-created position of Dean of Admissions at the Monterey Institute of Foreign Studies.

Wheaton, 57, has held a similar position at Pomona College for the past six years as dean of admissions and previously had served as admissions officer and associate dean at the college since 1949.

He and his wife, Betty, have rented a home in Pebble Beach. Their youngest daughter, Sarah Beth, has joined them while on summer vacation from Citrus College where she is a freshman student.

The Wheatons also have two married daughters.

An Ad in the Pine Cone Is a Better Value

SOCIAL SECURITY AND YOU

by Raymond MacDonald

Q. What are the basic requirements that must be met in order for a young person to receive benefits as a student?

A. Assuming that the student is the child of a retired, disabled, or deceased person who is insured under Social Security, benefits may be paid if the student is: 1. 18 through 21 years old. 2. A full-time student at an accredited school. 3. Unmarried.

Q. I am working as a waitress and my income is mostly in tips. How do I get credit under Social Security for the full amount of my earnings?

A. If you receive cash tips amounting to $20 or more in a month from any one employer, you must furnish him with a written report showing the total amount of tips you received. Your employer will then report these tips for Social Security purposes at the same time he reports your wages. You will have to give him the money needed to pay Social Security taxes on your tips.

Q. I started receiving Social Security after I retired several years ago. My son, who is age 28, has been disabled since birth. I failed to mention him when I applied for Social Security for myself. Is it too late to apply for benefits for him now?

A. It is not too late to apply for benefits which may be due your son. You should get in touch with your Social Security office right away. If possible, take your son into the office. If he is unable to leave home, the Social Security office will send someone to your home to complete the necessary papers.

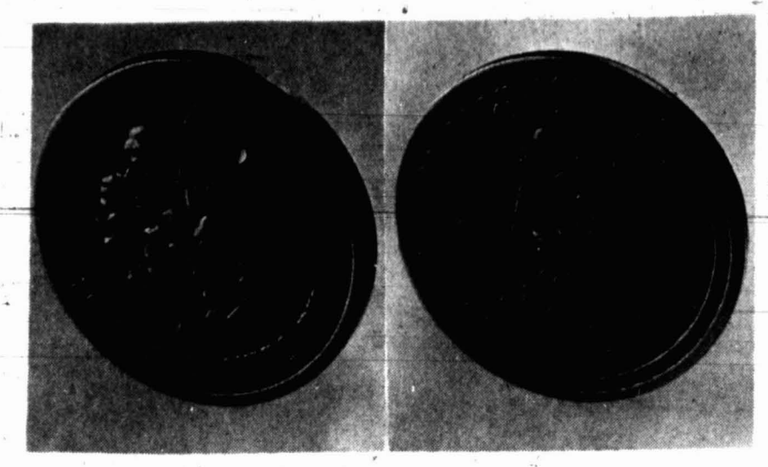
Q. My brother was hospitalized the first of April. He has worked under Social Security steadily for at least 20 years until his illness. Can he receive disability benefits?

A. If your brother has a condition which will prevent his doing any substantial work for atl east 12 months, he may be able to collect disability benefits after he has been disabled for at least six months. You should get in touch with the Social Security office without delay and file an application so that we can make a determination of his disability.

Q. My claim for disability was turned down because I needed one more year of work under Social Security. May I pay in the difference?

A. No. A person must have at least 5 years of work during the last 10 years just before becoming disabled. There is no way to pay the Social Security contributions for work not actually done.

(Mail your questions to Social Security, c/o the Carmel Pine Cone, Carmel, or phone Social Security office 373-3351).



MEDALLION ON SALE — The official Old Monterey Bicentennial Commemorative Medallion will go on sale in Monterey County Tuesday, Aug. 12. The medal will be available at banks, savings & loan associations and many other places of business. A collector's coin, this handsome medal is cast in bronze and silver, in 1½" and 2½" sizes. The profit from the sales will be used to finance the activities of the Bicentennial Celebration in Monterey County during 1970. One side of the 200th Birthday Medallion is a relief showing the heads of Father Junipero Serra, Gaspar de Portola, an Indian, a Senorita and an early Settler. The other side is the official insignia — a relief showing the Carmel Mission.

What is Christ?

Christ is the spirit of Truth and Love that Jesus taught and lived. It comes to each one of us when we are receptive to it.

No matter how far you may feel from the Christ, you can discover it for yourself. You can recognize its power to meet any situation.

You may learn how by coming to our study room and reading this week's Bible Lesson. It contains ideas that heal.

Carmel Valley Village

Goings On

Oleander Nursery has a choice Bonsai grouping of plants already started in their special dishes. The Saikei Society of Monterey spoke very highly of them, when they were here during the Plaza de Flores Fiesta.

Valley Lodge has a delightful miniature Japanese garden with curved 'lacquer red' bridge and appropriate plantings and pool, where actually hundreds of pictures have been snapped by their guests.

And speaking of things Japanese, we hear there is to be a new Restaurant here in the Village whose specialties include some marvelous sounding Japanese dishes.

Marian Wilson says she is gratified to see so many folks in our community feel as she does about keeping the post office in the "downtown Carmel Valley Village" area. The land between Irene Baldwin's Realty Office and the Grapevine Liquor Store is amply big enough for the expansion plans for the Post Office. Why not write our P.O. urging them to stay where the village already is.

One of Lou Gardner's (Blue Sky Lodge) favorite breakfasts is hot home made spice bread filled with lemon and orange peel, slathered with butter then spread with fresh valley grown raspberry jam, together with El Salvador coffee and double rich orange juice . . . enjoyed under the weeping ash tree in the Keeping Room Garden . . . in the early morning quiet.

And speaking of the Keeping Room . . . Claudia needs help with her bread and quiche baking in the kitchen . . . wonder who that someone will be? Maybe you?

Town & Country Properties' May Youngberg says she is busy as can be selecting just the right words to describe her perfectly charming Scarlett Road house which she is at last putting on the market. Just the most perfect honeymoon house imaginable . . . all white with blue and view and beautifully private.

The Plaza Linda Mexican Restaurant has a new addition—(no! the baby is not here yet). The front room under the creative direction of Dan Tavares has been given a South of the Border Gift Shop image with lovely pottery pieces of Tonala from Tlaquepaque near Guadalajara; iron; earthenware, painted wood, and pottery candelabra also brighten the corners where they are.

Glen Mewhinney says he would never have been in the art world had he not been ill and thus given the time and opportunity to find thru its therapeutic values, the great release, creativity gives all who pursue its many courses.

Marzi tells me their crew of six pour, trim, sponge, bisque fire, hand dip, and paint . . . 2000 pieces of their exclusive Monterey Jade Pottery a month.

Irene Baldwin invited me in to see her utterly charming capsular cottage . . . you just could never believe she has created a complete roomy house by extending her realty office building to the back of the lot there on Carmel Valley Road.

Larry Cummings, dealer in fine real estate here, is a member of our most outstanding Volunteer Fire Department. Those of us who have needed their services, are most impressed with their professional and almost instantaneous help.

Will's Fargo was the scene for Dan Tavares' twenty-first birthday celebration with Barbara Booth playing hostess to him and her son David, enjoying a bottle of bubbly sent by Dean and Josie Diaz, and after dinner drinks courtesy of Will Fay.

Harry Conley received a delightful letter from Polly Bergen written on July 30, 1969, the Year of the Turtle in which she says, quote: I can't tell you how beautiful the Batik scarf is. I have worn it several times and received many compliments. unquote. That Harry has done it again.

Los Laureles Lodge has a Specialte de la Maison each night and on Tuesday night it is a delightful Chicken en Brochette done in Polynesian style by Bob and Jan Emmitt.

Rippling River reports that they have sold the beautiful big watercolor painting by local artist Jerry Edlund . . . the bar just doesn't look the same . . . better get with the brushes again, Jerry.

Marian Wilson is up, up, and away to the San Francisco Gift Show this weekend for it's time to stock up on the goodies to be shipped in for Christmas selling in her exquisite In and Outdoor Shop.

THE OLD MILK HOUSE

Now the Carmel Valley Gallery and owned by Marian Wilson is one of the most outstanding monuments in the Village . . . a monument to the earlier days not so long past when our Village was a pasture with a road winding through, in and about the great oaks scattered through it, with milk barns, and ranch hand cottages, and tack rooms and dust and in the spring . . . wild flowers dotting the meadows in which it stood.

Paul T. Artellan

Artellan Is New Highlands Asst. Fire Chief

Carmel Highlands has a new paid Assistant Fire Chief, according to an announcement made today by Highlands Fire Protection District Chief Siezo Kodani.

The new fire officer is Paul T. Artellan. He assumed his official duties on Aug. 1st.

A member of a pioneer Monterey family, Artellan has been a paid fire engineer with the Carmel Fire Department since 1959.

He is a 1949 graduate of Carmel High School, and a Korean War veteran, having served with the Marine Corps in the combat zone.

For the past 15 years, Artellan has been active in various civic affairs on the Peninsula. He was elected four times to the office of Commander of Carmel American Legion Post 512. In addition, he has served in an executive capacity in several charity drives.

In 1967, Chief Artellan received a life time teaching credential from the State, and was than appointed as a Fire Science Instructor at Carmel High School.

To date, more than 60 high school students have completed the unique two-semester course.

This innovative program has drawn considerable national publicity, as well as requests for information from many other fire departments in the United States.

Earlier this year, Artellan was appointed a Field Training Instructor for the California Department of Vocational and Technical Education's Fire Training Program. He also holds an Instructors Card from the American Red Cross.

Assistant Chief Artellan resides in Carmel, with his wife, Genny, and daughter, Wendy.

His mother, Mrs. Louise Artellan, also of Carmel, was born in Carmel Highlands — just a short distance from the present fire station.

With Bob Wood In Sacramento

You may have noticed in your local papers that I was the only person on a 13-man committee who felt we could phase out DDT in California by December 31, 1972. However we can, I'm sure, look forward to facing the issue again in the future.

There are certainly two sides to the subject. I think all of us know that most scientists in the universities are aware that we can't live without pesticides and the abundance and quality of food, and the excellent health we now enjoy were not always so.

Also, on the plus side we have to consider, the fact that the U. S. Public Health Service has listed 30 insect-born diseases which are controlled by DDT. In spite of this, we must still face the fact that DDT is a nonbiodegradeable pesticide in our food chain. In language that most of us can understand a little better, this means that the chemical components of DDT will not break down in water or in our atmosphere, and that its toxicity remains in effect for many years.

The world-wide importance of the proper use of pesticides in safeguarding and improving health, as well as in the production of food and fibers, is recognized not only in California, but universally.

The State Department of Agriculture and the agricultural industry itself have displayed an interest in maintaining a legislative and regulatory climate regarding pesticides, and I'm sure that both will continue this successful pattern of investigation, regulation, and control throughout our State. The Director of the State Department of Agriculture, Jerry Fielder, happens to be a long-time friend of mine. We both attended the University of California at Davis back in 1936, and knew each other well at that time.

However, on this particular subject we differ, and I have gone on record as accepting the position of Dr. Ray Smith, entomologist at the University of California and our own Dave Scott, technical advisor and chief entomologist of the Soil Serv Company in Salinas. Both of these men have publically gone on record as stating that agriculture can get along without the use of DDT, and that present substitutes can be used and not jeopardize the agricultural industry.

Although my army experience was not of long duration and limited to peacetime service, an incident yesterday reminded me of the fact that I'm still a buck private in the rear ranks as far as seniority in the Assembly is concerned.

The State allows the legislators to park in the basement of the Capitol building.

When I first arrived, I was given a beautiful position as far as access in and out was concerned. But some senator or senior ranking assemblyman must have noticed when I got into my car the other day, and casually mentioned it to the Sergeant-at-arms that he, himself, might like that parking space.

Now I've been notified that as a freshman assemblyman, my new parking spot is way back under the boiler room. There are two rows of cars in front of me (making it nice when a man wants to get out in a hurry).

Oh well, I consider myself lucky to have any kind of parking space. I'm not alone! My friend Clare Berryhill, another freshman assemblyman from Modesto, is stuck in a position that's almost as bad as mine. He outranks me in seniority by three weeks, and I guess I'm the only man in the Legislature he could bump further back into the boiler room if he felt so inclined.

Reviews for Young Readers

By Allene Fremier

The Talking Crocodile is a story by Fyodor Dostoevsky, but adapted for very young children by M. Rudolph Campbell.

The humor is sophisticated, but the drawings, which are done by Judy Piussi-Campbell are clever. The story takes place in 19th century Russia. The narrator and his two friends have gone to see a crocodile, and his friend Ivan gets too close and is swallowed by the crocodile.

Ivan makes himself very comfortable inside, and even manages to talk to his friends who come to see him. Finally the tsar's dentist extracts him, and his wife and his friend welcome him home.

Fight The Night, written and illustrated by Tomie de Paola, tells the story of Ronald, whose mother tells him it is time to go to bed. He doesn't want to go to bed, but he has to anyway.

So he tells his mother "Even if I have to go to bed, I won't sleep. . . . I will stay up all Night!" He gets his flashlight, puts on his helmet and cape and waits for Night to come. He keeps fighting until finally the Night is gone.

"I won. I won." He crawls back in bed and takes off his helmet and cape and puts away his flashlight. Just then his mother calls him to breakfast. He doesn't hear her, because all he hears is Night's voice whispering from under the covers at the bottom of the bed: "Ha, ha, ha." And Ronald slept all day.

The illustrations alternate between black and white on one page and magenta and blue on the next.

Collage, by Mickey Klar Marks is a series of examples of collages, with brief explanations of how to go about creating them. It also list materials which might be used.

At the end of the book the author says: "The examples you have gone through in this book are just that and nothing more. Ideas as well as materials are limitless."

It is a good started which encourages the learner to use whatever he finds around him and creates something visually exciting.

It is a good starter which encourages the learner to use whatever he finds around him and create something visually exciting.

The Spring Rider, by John Lawson is a rewarding book, but difficult to describe briefly.

Every spring, Jacob and his older sister Gray see the rider with the stovepipe hat, and they see the Union soldier who awakes and puts his bugle to his lips and it cries "Come to me, come to me." He is Sergeant Hannibal Cutler, Second Maine Division, and he is the summoner of the unburied dead of the Civil War. Jacob and his sister become acquainted with these historic ghosts and an involving story develops.

N. Y. Agent Speaks To Writing Class

Bartold Fles, New York literary agent, spoke to Maxine Shore's summer writing workshop on Tuesday night.

He explained the work of an author's agent, told of some of his experiences in handling manuscripts for writers in this country and in Europe, and answered questions from members of the class.

During his visit to the peninsula, Fles has been the guest of Paul Rink, Carmel Valley author. After speaking engagements in southern California and Santa Fe, N. M., he plans to attend the book fair in Leipzig in East Germany.

President Shermer L. Sibley, 55, of Pacific Gas and Electric Company on August 1 will succeed Chairman of th Board Robert H. Gerdes as the utility's chief executive officer. Gerdes, who reached 65 this month, becomes chairman of the executive committee.

John F. Bonner, 55, senior vice president, will become executive vice-president.

The management changes were announced today following the monthly meeting of the PG&E board of directors.

Gerdes is immediate past president of the Edison Electric Institute, the association of the nation's investor-owned electric utility companies. An attorney, he joined PG&E in 1929 shortly after graduation from the University of California and its law school. He later was in private practice for eight years but continued to be association with the company's legal affiars, and returned in 1943 as assistant general counsel. Successive advancements led to his election as president in 1963 and as chairman of the board in 1965.

Sibley, 55, an electrical engineer, was elected president and chief operating officer in 1965. He began his career as an lectric department mapper and estimator after graduation from the University of California in 1936. He has headed PG&E's continuing rapid physical expansion now exceeding $300 million a yar and has given impetus to its wide-ranging activities in the fields of conservation and esthetics, which have won national recognition.

Sibley is a member of the nationwide electric utility industry task force on environment of the Citizens Advisory Committee on Recreation and Natural Beauty, which has set industry goals in undergrounding power lines and beautifying facilities. He is also is a member of the executive advisory committee of the Federal Power Commission for the National Power Survey. Among other professional interests, he has given leadership in encouragement of engineering education.

High Sierra Pack Trip Openings

One of the highlights of the Monterey Peninsula YMCA's camping season is the upcoming High Sierra Back Pack. Plans are now underway to choose the route this year's backpackers will take across the mighty Sierra.

On Aug. 14, some 15 to 18 boys, all 16 years and older, will depart the YMCA office for this 11-day adventure. Under the direction of YMCA staff members, boys will experience deep blue, trout filled lakes, fresh running streams, majestic mountain peaks, and quiet campfire fellowship as they travel the back country of the Sierra together.

Space is still available for any boy who would enjoy such a rugged and rewarding adventure in the out of doors.

Those interested should contact the YMCA at 373-4166 for further information.

Del Monte Reports Increased First Half Earnings

Del Monte Properties Company reported net income for the first six months of 1969 amounted to $558,032, compared with $553,338 in 1968.

A capital gain of $59,551 was included in the '68 earnings period. No capital gain was recorded for a corresponding period this year, A. G. Michaud, president and chief executive, stated.

Total revenues for the first half of 1969 were $6,503,304, an increase of 18 per cent, and in particular reflect the continued growth of the company's sand and real estate divisions.

Michaud termed the increase in revenues for the company's long-term land leasing program "Most encouraging," as they more than doubled the 1968 return.

With publication of first half earnings, the company's Board of Directors declared regular quarterly dividends of 7½ cents per share on the common and 28⅛ cents per share on 216,000 shares of Series A Preferred.

The common dividend will be paid Sept. 1 to shareholders of record Aug. 15; the preferred Oct. 1 to shareholders of record Sept. 15.

More Helpful Hints From PG&E:

Five handy tips on household safety.

A Little Dirt or Lint can cause trouble. So make sure that burners and controls on your gas furnace, wall or floor heater are clean at all times. And clean or replace dirty furnace filters periodically.

Get Rid Of
rusted or loose fitting vent and flue pipes. Have them checked annually And if you suspect a gas leak, CALL PG&E IMMEDIATELY.

Once A Year
have your gas appliances thoroughly checked by your furnace man or plumber. While he's there he should make sure safety pilots are operating properly, air openings on burners are clean and burners set for a blue flame.

Remember
to replace broken or frayed electric cords. Make sure all electric tools are properly grounded. Never put too many appliances on one outlet. Disconnect small appliance cords by pulling plug first from outlet and always discourage youngsters from tampering with cords or outlets.

It's Up To You
to practice good home safety habits. Don't place furniture or draperies over floor furnaces. Don't let gas accumulate before lighting a burner manually. And always make sure the burners on your range are off completely when not in use.

PG&E Is Ready To Help
If you call for a PG&E service man to check out any gas leak or inoperative gas appliance, ask him to show you where your gas pilots are located and how to go about relighting them. If repairs or parts are ever required for an appliance, call an appliance or furnace service man or your plumber.

Andalusia, Home of Costa Del Sol, Flemenco and Great Spanish Wines

PART II

No visit to the Costa del Sol would be complete without a trip to Granada, which can be reached from Malaga. On the map, it is only about 80 miles from the coast, but the drive is through some of the world's most rugged mountains and the long drive is unexpectedly tiring. After hours of hairpin bends and sheer drops with little protection, the sight of Granada is perfect joy.

Life in the city of Granada was at its height a hundred years before Columbus discovered America. It was then the capital of the kingdom of Granada, seat of the Moorish kings and a Mecca for Arab artists and builders. In the century that followed, the Catholic monarchs Ferdinand and Isabel drove the Moors from Spain and established Spanish dominance in the New World.

Seen today, Granada is a strange mixture of Moorish past showing through centuries of Spanish life. Two great relics of the Moorish civilization remain — the Alhambra and the Generalife.

The world-famous Alhambra, palace-fortress of the Moorish kings, still enjoys a high reputation throughout the Arab countries as a masterpiece of Moorish art.

The Alhambra contains the famed Court of the Lions but it is not the central fountain which is the source of its reputation. Rather it is the delicately carved Moorish archways that surround the courtyard.

The Generalife, summer palace of the Moors, is almost lost in its spectacular gardens with miles of walks through a maze of hedges, terraces and fountains. An enclosed Moorish garden with fountains playing into a long, narrow pool, is the same now as it was in the 14th century. The guards are a colorful feature. They stroll around the gardens dressed in heavy ponchos, made of coarse wool woven by mountain shepherds, and wide-brimmed Cordoban hats.

Apart from the Alhambra and the Generalife, the city itself holds many treasures for those who like to explore. Winter visitors should dress well as it can be freezing here at the foot of the snow-covered Sierra Nevada. Some of the most beautiful streets in the world are to be found in the Arcade of the Artisans, where dozens of small shops specialize in fine arts and handicrafts. Here are silversmiths and goldsmiths and experts in inlaid wood and embossed leather, crafts which have been handed down from father to son for centuries.

Granada is one city in Spain which seems to have resisted any attempt to modernize. Stores seem to hide behind great wooden doors, wrought-iron grilles and small windows. Balcony railings look out from buildings which belong to a time which rapidly is being left behind in the great cities of Madrid and Barcelona.

it is still burning. Quite exciting when served in a darkened room or on a terrace with moonshine through palm fronds.

The tastes of Thailand are a toast to the tropics. So say today's top U.S. ladies stationed with their husbands in Bangkok. Most of the homes where American officials live are open to the exterior, and many are equipped with large terraces or lawns which are used for informal party giving. This devotion to outdoor entertaining brings with it the ever present hazard of mosqutos. It is always advisable for the hostess to arrange for insect lights, torch flares and other repellants. If guests are being chewed, enjoyment diminishes rapidly.

Chopsticks are not used in Thailand, but forks and always spoons accompany the many courses. Knives are unnecessary, since meat and vegetables are cut into bite-sized pieces and cooked in a rich broth. The seasoning is quite bland, with just an undertone of curry powder.

Tiny hot peppers are minced and drenched in vinegar. These are served in individual bowls for each to use at his/her own discretion . . . to spark up various Thai dishes. Fish is plentiful and usually minced before steaming in banana leaves. Soups are very popular to be sipped from bowls minus handles. Here is a delightfully refreshing soup known as

Shrimp Leson Grass Soup

One lb. shrimp, shelled and deveined; 4 cups clear chicken broth; 1 clove garlic, crushed; ½ t. ground coriander; 2 bay leaves; 2 lemon slices; 1 t. soy sauce, or to taste; 2 T. lemon juice, or more to taste; dash of cayenne or Tabasco; chopped scallion greens; ½ cup evaporated milk, warmed, never boiled.

Combine all ingredients except shrimp, milk and scallions. Bring to boil and simmer 15 min. Warm milk in separate pan.

Add coarsely chopped raw shrimp and simmer 10 more min. or until heated through. Slowly add milk just before serving; reheat carefully so as not to curdle. Garnish each bowl with chopped scallions, chives, watercress or parsley.

Two cups of finely cubed chicken may be used instead of the shrimp. The chicken is previously cooked. Depending upon how rich you want the soup, 4½ cups of chicken stock can be used instead of the milk. Remove bay leaves.

Will Thai dishes be served at the White House? Our guess is as accurate as yours . . . but we think, that at least "en famille," the Nixons will enjoy some of these dishes we've described.

Redwood Groves Given To State

A $6 million stand of prime redwood, one of the largest gifts in the history of the American conservation movement, was presented July 30, by the Georgia-Pacific Corp., to the Nature Conservancy for use as a State park.

The gift embraces two groves on a 390 acre tract 12 miles scutheast of Fortuna, Calif.

In a brief ceremony at the site, attended by Georgia-Pacific, Nature Conservancy, Save-the-Redwoods League and State Park officials, Robert B. Pamplin, chairman and president of Georgia-Pacific, gave the deed to the property to Thomas W. Richards, president of The Nature Conservancy, who, in turn, handed it over to William Penn Mott, chief of the California State Park system.

Included in the gift are some 206 acres of old growth redwood, classified triple 0 (000), which signifies the oldest and best timber. Many of the trees are between 400 and 800 years old and a number are 15 or more feet in diameter. The volume of timber in the stands runs between 300,000 and 400,000 board feet per acre; the total amount of top grade redwood is enough to build houses for over a million people. The remaining land includes young growth redwood, river bar and meadow lands.

Administration of the new park will be from the nearby Grizzly Creek Redwood State Park.

Don't Let Those Insects 'Bug' You

Wasps, hornets, bumblebees, ants, mosquitoes, chiggers, scorpions, honey bees, centipedes, spiders, ticks, caterpillars, flies, fleas, and bedbugs are just a few of nature's creeping, crawling, and flying creatures whose sting or bite can be painful and sometimes deadly.

Bees, wasps and chiggers are usually the worst annoyers of fishermen and picnickers — but in certain areas scorpions, and poisonous spiders are also a problem at times.

If a honey bee stings you, remember that time is a big factor in minimizing the pain. Once a bee stings, the barbed stinger and venom-filled sac stay attached to the skin. It takes a bee two or three minutes to inject the whole amount of venom through its stinger, and even though you have brushed aside the bee, the sac continues to pump the venom.

Examine the site of the sting and with a knife or your fingernail, scrape the stinger off immediately.

DON'T try to grasp the stinger with your fingers as you are likely to squeeze more venom into your skin.

For first aid, apply a strong Epsom salts solution to draw out whatever poison is under the skin. The area may also be coated with an analgesic cream which will reduce pain and relieve itching.

Chiggers and ticks, some of which may spread Rocky Mountain spotted fever and tularemia, usually attach themselves to a person's ankles or legs. Remove them with forceps or tweezers if they can be seen. Sometimes the parasites will come out if a lighted cigarette is brought near, but be careful not to burn yourself. To relieve intense itching, apply a weak solution of ammonia or baking soda, or use a reliable cintment recommended by your physician.

As a rule, most spiders are harmless. However, the black widow spider, easily identified by an orange-red hourglass spot on her billy, can cause trouble. So can a tarantula and some centipedes. For first aid treat these bites like snake bites. With a razor blade or sharp knife, cut an X through the puncture spot and suck out the poison. See a physician immediately.

Although there are only two of 40 or more species of scorpions in the West that are poisonous and really dangerous to humans, all of these creeping creatures can inflict a painful sting. Don't take chances. See a physician at once if you are bitten. Victims who are allergic or extremely sensitive to the venom, children under five years of age, persons who have a history of heart trouble, and those who have been stung repeatdly should be considered emergency cases and rushed to a hospital or physician.

To keep from getting stung or bitten by insects, follow this advice: bees and wasps usually sting when they are actually touched, or when their nest is threatened. If you see several bees disappear under leaves, don't tread there. If a bee flies around you, stand still. Do not run, and do not flail your arms. Repellents will ward off mosquitoes, chiggers, ants, and other insects looking for food — but have little or no value in keeping stinging insects away, because once aroused they will attack.

If you are allergic or sensitive to insect bites you should see your physician. After a careful examination he might administer desensitizing shots to prevent severe reactions to such stings.

OWNER HAS SAID "SELL" so has listed this extremely attractive home at an unbelievable low price. Home combines a rustic feeling with a touch of elegance. Boasts 3 large bedrooms, 2 baths (one bedroom and bath have separate entrance), beamed ceilings, built-in kitchen, dining area, large living room and garage. Located south of Ocean in a quiet area but still close to town. Asking only $39,500.

DRAMATIC SETTING—This large Spanish design home is located on Scenic Ave. and is situated on three lots and has about 6500 square feet of living space. There is a most interesting entry hall, spacious living room and separate dining room, breakfast room and den. Now for the large family, seven bedrooms and five baths and a rumpus room. The house alone could not be replaced at the asking price of $235,000.

REDUCED — A little weekender (1 bedroom), close in, remodeled and now only $23,000.

CARMEL MOTEL — Buy now and take advantage of the summer trade. Ideal operation for a couple. This 10-unit motel is in top condition and shows an excellent return. UNUSUAL financing on today's money market at the very low rate of 6%. You can't beat this on the tight money market. Call for details.

Enos Fouratt's Specials

YOU CAN PURCHASE YOUR RETIREMENT home now and move in when you do retire if a little contemporary two-bedroom home is sufficient in size. Meanwhile it has a built-in tenant who would like to continue living there. $27,500.

OUR RARE BUILDING SITE is 2.9 acres right on the Pacific Ocean — just north of Rocky Point Restaurant. Utilities are in and underground. Try to find another such site at $51,000.

FOR THE CART-DISTANCE GOLFER, we have almost an acre on Portola Road in PEBBLE BEACH — located right in the pines. $22,500.

OUR ONE-ACRE MINIMUM easy-to-build-on view site is in RANCHO RIO VISTA. Half of the acre plus is oak trees. A real value at $22,500. Owners may help finance.

SUNSHINE, GLASS, BEAUTIFUL LANDSCAPING AND COMSTOCK QUALITY and charm characterize our LA RANCHERIA country estate. Consisting of two bedrooms, a knotty pine den (or third bedroom), 2½ baths, a family room with an outstanding barbecue, dining area, large living room and a completely equipped kitchen, this home provides seclusion even though the expanse of glass extends from the two-car attached garage clear over the 3000 plus square feet to the master bedrooms. There is also a single detached garage. The one-plus acre is fenced for horses and dog runs have been built. Look at the pictures in our window and you'll see why the acquisition fee is $73,500.

Fascinating Homes in Carmel Highlands

First Time on the Market

You have probably admired this new Old English home on your right as you drive South from the Highlands Inn. It was lovingly planned and custom-built only four years ago for an owner who wanted an interesting home taking full advantage of the wonderful ocean view. It's country English, rough wood interior, delightful sea views through many unusual windows. Planned as a two- (enormous) bedroom home, it is easily rearranged for a larger family. You really should see it if $75,500 is in your general price range.

Older Charm in a Traditional

On two acres of forest to guarantee your seclusion and privacy while forever protecting your beautiful ocean view. Built in the 20's for a famous opera star, it has had some remodeling (including the kitchen) over the years, but you could still give your creative talent for re-doing plenty of leeway. So close to Carmel, it is impossible (to our knowledge) to duplicate the charming ambience and lovely seclusion of this property. Price is $79,500.

If....

YOU'RE LOOKING FOR A BUILDING SITE that is realistically priced for today's market, ask us about these:

1. PRICE REDUCED to only $12,500 for a lot with a woodsy setting located a few blocks from the Village . . . ideal for a cozy Carmel cottage!
2. HOMESITE FOR A YOUNG FAMILY near the River Primary School. Level 60'x100' lot in an area where all utility lines are underground . . . $15,500.
3. QUIET COUNTRY ATMOSPHERE pervades this desirable Rancho Canada acre surrounded by attractive residences on a cul-de-sac. Only $17,500.
4. A CHOICE OF THREE Upper Pebble Beach Sites . . . choose one with a view or one with native trees for a background. $12,500 to $14,500.

Charm Unlimited

DELIGHTFUL OLDER HOME ON CARMEL POINT just a few steps from the shore features a three-level floor plan that suggests several possible usages . . . a one-family residence, a home plus income or an opportunity to pursue a hobby.

The large living room is the "heart of the home" with its vaulted ceiling, mullioned windows and hearth. On the same level are two bedrooms, a bath, half-bath, country-type kitchen and entry. An outside stairway leads to a studio-bedroom and bath; an outside entrance opens to a lower-level bedroom and bath. Quaint roof lines and a bedroom fireplace are but two of the many unique details of this "special" property. Exclusively listed at $59,500.

RARE IN HATTON FIELDS MESA!

We've just listed a home built for the present owner and it's now on the market for the first time. Two bedrooms and one bath, dining area off cozy living room, efficient kitchen — and all carpeted over hard wood. Large lot but you need not cultivate it all as the patio and front yard set the house off attractively. Detached garage and separate tool house, all for $31,500. If you want a small, winsome home in a fine area, this is it!

BE THE FIRST . . .

To see this newly listed home to be sold to settle an estate! We don't want you to miss it as it probably won't last long. The large sunny kitchen, the 24-foot redwood living room with lots of brick and the master bedroom all look out onto the fascinating oriental garden. There are 2 bedrooms, 1½ baths, a den and sheltered patio. Full insulation and fine heating system assure your comfort and the hill views are most restful. Ideal for a couple or small family, for only $36,000.

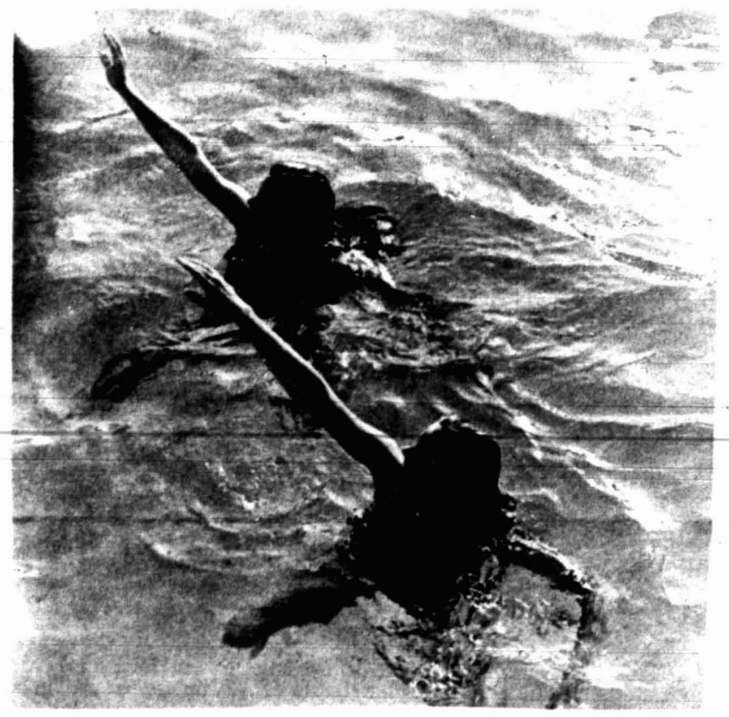
JOB CHANGE — Mel Grimes, left, hands over his badge of office as delivery agent for the Pine Cone — a U. S. mail sack — to his successor, Lance Barstad. Grimes, who has been delivering the Pine Cone to the post office and local newsstands for more than eight years, is entering the UC, Santa Barbara, in September. He is a graduate of Carmel High School and MPC. Lance is attending MPC, and will pick up a little spending money by taking over Mel's job. On Aug. 1, Grimes, John Hale, Howard Peak and John Lauderdale of Carmel and Mike Case of Monterey headed south for a month of surfing in Mexico. They plan to spend most of their time in Quadalajara and San Blas Mazattan.



FAVORITES — Susie Selfridge (left) and Bonnie Banker of the Cypress Swim Club moved into twelfth place in duet competition at the 1969 Sr. National AAU Outdoor synchronized swimming championships two weeks ago in Ohio. This marks a two-position jump over their previous National ranking of fourteenth during the indoor season. There were 66 entries in the duet competition. Bonnie and Susie are heavily favored to take gold medals in the duet division of the National AAU Region VIII Jnnior Olympic synchronized swimming championships which will be held in Paso Robles, Calif., on Sept. 5-6-7.

BRAINY BEAUTY — Familiar to Peninsula residents for her performances in the Cypress Swim Club's annual fund-raising "Aqua-Spectacular," Miss Kim Welshons of the Santa Clara Aquamaids is again the quadruple-crown winner of the 1969 Sr. National AAU Synchronized Swimming Championships, having won over 257 entries in the meet at Toledo, Ohio, last week, in all categories of competition, solos, duets, teams, and figures. Miss Welshons is not only a beauty and a champion, but a brain as well, having a straight four-point grade average in her major of mathematics at West Valley Jr. College.

Sunset Center Restaurant Lease

five questions to be answered before serious consideration should be given to any restaurant at Sunset, had directed those questions to the council's committee on administration (Barney Laiolo and Herbert Blanks) and had proposed that that committee study the matter. Falge's questions were:

(1) Has the insurance company cleared the restaurant and at what cost? Will the restaurant lessee pay the additional insurance cost for Sunset?

(2) Has the fire department cleared the restaurant's setup? What additional fire prevention equipment will be required and will the lessee pay?

(3) What is the breakdown of square footage for Room No. 5, the kitchen, etc. What is the cost per foot to be paid?

(4) The city attorney stated that a restaurant would be a commercial venture and should be leased at figures comparable to the commercial district—30 to 50 cents per square foot. Where does this now stand?

(5) What provisions must be made for dumbwaiter and foot access between the restaurant and kitchen? What will the costs be? Will the restaurant lessee pay these costs? Will access to gymnasium and cafeteria be affected?

Finally Councilman Falge "recommended that all members of the city council be provided with a copy of the proposed lease."

While City Attorney Burleigh pointed out that the proposed lease he had worked out at the request of the cultural commission contained an alternate percentage-of-sales rental formula as well as the minimum monthly rental figures of $100 a month in the winter and $150 at other times, any starting rental would have to be the specified minimum monthly amounts since there would not yet have been any yardstick sales records on which any percentage could be based.

Besides all the technicalities involved in a possible restaurant lease at the city's Sunset Center, there is also the fundamental question as to whether or not there ever should be so purely commercial an activity as a restaurant at Sunset, which was bought for "municpial community and cultural" use, especially when the proposed lease states that "the tenant must be eligible for and must obtain a beer and wine license."

While the city council is empowered to change any or all the conditions of the proposed lease, and would be equally able to reject the Tom King restaurant application altogether, it sometimes seems difficult for council members to take such action after city advisory bodies have previously acted as is the case in the existing situation.

Members of the Carmel electorate who have views in the Sunset restaurant matter, should convey those views to council members, before the council finally acts on it.

A new resolution continuing Carmel's participation in the county-wide Monterey Bay Area Cooperative Library System, won unanimous council approval.

Last November a similar resolution won a bare 3-to-2 approval, with Mayor Laiolo and Councilman Falge opposed.

The council also voted to seek bank bids for a loan of $112,000 "to protect the reserves of this city during fiscal year 1969-70." This is part of the once-questioned use of such loans to defray the cost of construction of the police station-public works facility on north Junipero.

Use of the gymnasium and the adjoining office at Sunset Center, by a film organization, Black Lion Productions, was approved on a month-to-month basis. This action compels the relocation of City Planning Director John Riling, who had occupied the office in question.

Kiwanis Hears Lyceum

Carmel Kiwanians, meeting at the Pine Inn Thursday noon, got an insight into the workings of the Lyceum of the Monterey Peninsula.

Captain Ralph Arndt explained the purposes of the Lyceum, and showed slides demonstrating how talented adults and bright students are brought together to the benefit of both.

All fields are covered, Arndt explained, including the arts, humanities and physical sciences.

The Lyceum recognizes no race or color, and gifted students of any belief or creed are welcomed into the program.

ROTARY SPEAKER—High Twelve Club Monday heard Barnet J. Segal, right, president of Carmel Savings and Loan, trace the history of banking in Monterey County. He was introduced by Wed Downer, left.

Smith and the Bank of Pacific Grove.

The leading men of finance at the time were the so-called three Toms: Tom Work, president of First National Bank, Tom Field, president of Bank of Monterey and Tom Doud, a large ranch owner who was a private lender. These men all came up from small beginnings. Field started in with the Southern Pacific Company, making regular trips between Monterey and San Francisco until he married into the Munras family of old Spanish lineage who acquired large grants of land from Spain.

His daughter used to entertain Spanish nobility at their home, which is now the Casa Munras Hotel.

The Bank of E. Cooke Smith is the oldest bank on the Peninsula having started with his mother in 1880. He was a sort of one-man bank—part of a real estate office in Pacific Grove.

It afterward changed its name to Security State Bank, later acquired by Mr. Burkett. Branches were added in Marina, Carmel Valley and Monterey, then Burkett merged this into United California Bank.

Carmel did not have a bank, so Segal decided to open one here. He organized the Bank of Carmel in 1923 but was unable to maintain his position with the bank because other directors had a larger investment. That bank has since merged with Crocker-Citizens.

In 1923, Segal launched Carmel Savings and Loan with a capitalization of $25,000. Now its profits are ten times that and its capitalization stands at more than $23,000,000.

Wed Downer, formerly associated with Carmel's United California Bank introduced Segal as the area's most eligible bachelor.

SPECIAL ANNIVERSARY — Celebrating their 20th year in the United States are Mr. and Mrs. Alex Dzigurski, left, and toasting the Carmel artist's jubilee year at a recent cocktail party are fellow-gallery owners Mr. and Mrs. Logan D. Hill, right. Alex Dzigurski, his wife and daughter came to America as displaced persons from Yugoslavia in 1949, and his exceptional talents as a sea and landscape painter have made him so successful that he now operates galleries in Alto and Beverly Hills as well as Carmel, and his paintings hang in the collection of Nelson Rockefeler, Henry Ford II, and the First Nationa Bank of Dallas, Tex., to name just a few. His work has won prizes internationally.

BLUE RIBBON SQUASH?—Russel Wolter of Carmel Valley hopes so. Wolter, one of the last five row crop farmers in Carmel Valley, has been a consistent prize winner at Monterey County Fair over the years and he hopes this year will be no different. Summer squash is just one of nine vegetables and fruits he will have on display in the agricultural building at the fair.

New Horizons Meet In Monterey

A series of six talks on divergent themes but all having to do with symbols in one way or another were presented last Sunday at The House of the Four Winds, in Monterey, by the "Understanding New Horizons" lecture series, the new name of the Northern California Space Convention, which will be holding its second annual meet on the Monterey Peninsula.

Mrs. Martha Herd of Carmel Valley was hostess.

Fred Kimball, the man who talks with animals, interviewed some local pets; Dr. Daniel Bleise, San Francisco expert on symbology, explored "Astrology, the Root of Religious Symbolism" and Riley Crabb, editor of the Journal of Borderland Research gave an illustrated review of The Mass, an explanation in pictures of the beginnings of this ancient rite.

At the evening session, Col. Arthur Burks, author, mystic and psychic, spoke on "The Third Eye"; Gayne Myers, numerologist, name changing and whether it is really effective, and Damien Simpson, the young deserter from a monastery, who made such a strong impression last year with his modern opinions, put forth his ideas on "Aquarian Age Religion."
